SUGAR SERVICES

Helping you mitigate risk at every stage of your operations as you build back ever better.

With a strong network of in-house sugar laboratories, Intertek provides customers with immediate access to reliable quality and sanitary information for all types of sugar and sugar by-products.

We support our customers with a full range of services essential to risk management in the sugar trade. We do this everywhere around the world - both where sugar is produced and where it's consumed.

Our laboratories worldwide are at our customers' disposal any time to analyse sugar according to the universal ICUMSA methods as well as any other relevant national and international standards.
