TOYS, GAMES & PREMIUM TESTING

Enabling product safety from design to department store

When it comes to Toys, Games and Premium challenges, Intertek has the solutions

Your Challenges

The requirements for toy testing become increasingly stringent with each day that passes. Many countries have established their own safety regulations for these items and you must ensure that your products comply with relevant standards before your goods can be sold in these locations.

Manufacturers have been held liable for injuries and fatalities resulting from design flaws, use of unsuitable materials and substandard production.

Our Solutions

As the largest player in the toys, games, and premium testing industry with over 1,000 laboratories and offices in over 100 countries, Intertek can help safeguard its clients – providing product safety testing, certification, inspection, evaluation and quality assurance services including:

- Design evaluation
- Initial product specification analysis
- Factory evaluation
- Mock-up sample study
- Feasibility testing
- Endurance, performance, and life testing
- Pre-production inspection
- During production inspection
- Safety testing in pre-production, during production, and after production
- CPSIA (Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act) testing utilizing Intertek's CPSC accredited labs across the globe
- EU type examination
- Pre-shipment inspection

- Product review and engineering
- Loading supervision
- Risk assessment and management

Total Quality Assurance

As a Total Quality Assurance provider, we strive to facilitate the creation of the safest environment possible for children by enhancing the design, safety, and quality of toys and children's products. Intertek goes beyond regulatory testing to provide research and development services that incorporate real-life child observation and risk analysis to assess, identify and predict potential hazards in toys and children's products at all stages of development and production.
